TRY THREE IN POOL UNION

Officers Who Were on Vacation When Strike Was Called, Go Before Trial Board

Three members of the Police-men's Union, men who have not announced their intention of quitting the organization, and who made no application for reinstatement, were today tried by a police department board, charged with violations of the rule having to do with joining an organization other than the Police Relief, Grand Army or American Legion. The officers tried were Patrick L. Daniel, Daniel McMillen and Daniel Carroll of the City Hall avenue police station. Captain James P. Sullivan appeared as complainant. Captains Driscoll, Fitzgerald and Roney were the members of the trial board. What finding they have made in the case is not as yet known.

WERE NOT ON DUTY.

The three officers were on vacation on the day the strike was called. They were all members of the union, and attended all meetings at about the time the strike was called. None of them has as yet resigned from the union, and, so far as is known, none of them has made application for reinstatement.

Carroll, who was tried first, acted as his own lawyer, as did McMillen and Driscoll. It is understood that all admit their union affiliation. It is not known, however, whether they will be reinstated.

EX-GOVERNOR GRAHAM'S TRIAL PUT OFF TO JAN. 20

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 19.—The trial of Horace P. Graham, former Governor and State officer, which was to open today in Washington County Court House, has been continued until January 20, at the request of Attorney General Frank C. Archibald.

Boston Will Be 'Dry' for Tough 'Dry' for the H-V Game

Friday night, Saturday and Sunday night Boston should witness a return to the form that was last manifest in 1915 when Captain Eddie Mahan led a Harvard team into a 41 to 0 victory over Yale. In other words, this old town bids fair to be packed jam full of real old-time Harvard-Yale spirit, sans the "spirits" that went to make other years historical.

Today a close investigation of existing conditions along all of the leading hotels gasping for Friday and Saturday and have scores of applications for rooms that ought to be supplied. Cakes have reservations all over the place for Saturday night. John A. Root, a well-known person on all occasions, seems even more popular now that the big game is approaching. John A. is handling a supply and promise to accommodate first come first served at slightly exorbitant prices. A mere $10 bill will hardly secure a cot in a 100 proof Saturday.

MANY EXTRA TRAINS.

The New Haven and Boston & Albany roads report that the demand for reservations between New York and Boston and intermediate points is the heaviest in years. Both roads have announced a number of special and extra which will run on that day. New Haven will be the originating point for a number of these trains.

Along Speculator's Row today there is a number of men who take chances with the tickets that none of them has as yet resigned from the union, and, so far as is known, none of them has made application for reinstatement.

Carroll, who was tried first, acted as his own lawyer, as did McMillen and Driscoll. It is understood that all admit their union affiliation. It is not known, however, whether they will be reinstated.

GARFIELD WARNS MINERS AND OPERATORS

Says Dickering Over How Much to Increase Prices to Public Must Stop

Washington, Nov. 19.—"The public must be protected"—this was the ultimatum laid down to the coal miners and the operators today by Dr. Harry A. Garfield, Federal fuel administrator.

Dr. Garfield declared that the negotiations between the operators and miners are here virtually resolved into an effort to determine how much the public will stand for in the way of increased prices of coal. He said that the public must stop and that both parties must come to a speedy agreement.

Dr. Garfield pointed out that whether the miners are granted a 10 per cent. advance in wages, or whether the operators are granted a 10 per cent. advance in the price of coal, the public must stand for it. He said that the public must stand for it, and that the public must stand for it.

TRACE TAPE USED BY BANDITS

Believe It Was Purchased by Brockton Woman Who Knows Gang Leader

Investigators working on the Randolph Savings Bank robbery believe they have located the source of the adhesive tape with which Treasurer Tolman, Miss Frances Howard and George W. Glidden were gagged during the time the robbers worked. This discovery leads to the belief that an arrest is certain.

They have found that a woman who is known to have been friendly to a man under suspicion purchased five yards of the tape on the Friday or Saturday night of the robbery. This woman did not make the purchase for the band of thieves, however. If the tape she purchased was used, she is unwittingly involved.

BELIEVE WOMAN KNOWS.

In Brockton they believe that this woman, who was particularly friendly with the leader of the gang, who she may not have had guilty knowledge, it is believed she knows something and can be charged as an accessory.

Miss Howard, Glidden and Joseph Hickey, the undertaker who observed the band of robbers during the time they were in the bank, today viewed thousands of pictures in the Brockton and Boston police rosters, galleries, just what result came of their inspection the police are not yet ready to announce.

Today the Brockton operatives were engaged in tracing the movements of a Packard touring car which has been reported as having been in the vicinity of the bank.

WILSON'S LETTER; LODGE'S REPLY

Washington, Nov. 19.—Following is President Wilson's letter to Senator Hitchcock, appealing for defeat of Senator Lodge's resolution of ratification of the peace treaty:

My Dear Senator:

You were good enough to bring me word that the Democratic Senators supporting the treaty expected to hold a conference before the final vote on the Lodge resolution of ratification and that they would be glad to receive a word of counsel from me.

I should hesitate to offer it in any detail, but I assume that the Senators only desire my judgment upon the all-important question of the final vote on the resolution containing the many reservations by Senator Lodge. On that I cannot hesitate. For in my opinion the resolution in that form does not provide for ratification, but rather for the nullification of the treaty. I sincerely hope that the friends and supporters of the treaty will vote against the Lodge resolution of ratification.

I understand that the door probably will then be open for a genuine resolution of ratification.

I trust that all true friends of the treaty will refuse to support the Lodge resolution.

Cordially and sincerely yours,

(Signed) WOODROW WILSON, President.

After reading the above letter, Senator Lodge said:

The Senate has equal power and responsibility with the President in the making of treaties. They will not, in my opinion, obey the order of the President, who undertakes to command the Senate to ratify the treaty without the reservations adopted by a large majority of the Senate, which Americanize it and make it safe for the United States. What the President demands will not, in my opinion, be done.

RHODE ISLAND WET INJUNCTION IS REVOKED

Court of Appeals Rules That State Is Subject to Volstead Act Like Rest of Country

Rhode Island's temporary wet spell came to an end today when the United States Circuit Court of Appeals revoked an injunction issued last week by a Rhode Island judge, which allowed the temporary sale of four per cent. beer.

By the Court of Appeals order today Rhode Island is like the rest of the country and can sell beer containing not more than one per cent. alcohol.

Stripped of legal verbiage, what happened was that Judge Andrew L. Brown of Rhode Island, at the request of the Narragansett Brewing Company, issued an injunction which prohibited the Rhode Island collector of the Narragansett Brewing Company from enforcing the provisions of the Volstead act.

LAWYERS FEAR OPPOSITION BY LEGISLATURE

Will Delay Offering Bill for New Bar Association Until
New Session

Fearing that any attempt to introduce such a bill at the special session of the Massachusetts Legislature now sitting will be blocked, the Boston lawyers framing the bill to support the Boston Bar Association, plan to delay the presentation of their bill until the next regular sitting of the Legislature.

"In the meantime," said an attorney who is framing the bill, and who is leading the movement, "it will be to educate the public regarding the necessity for this action. We understand that we will face bitter opposition on the part of the ring of attorneys who have long controlled the Boston Bar Association, and we anticipate that our action may lead to some sensational disclosures."

"Our first move will be to hold a public mass meeting, and we expect to be able to announce our plans for this within the next few days."

Members of the grievance committee of the Boston Bar Association, who have been investigating the Boston Bar Association, seemed much incensed over published reports that one of their body had commented on the Boston Bar Association and had declared that the Boston Bar Association should be dissolved.

"It has been an ironical rule of the association that no member of such a committee should talk for publication," declared William H. Capper, of the committee, "and I find it very hard to believe that anyone would break this rule. I understand that the information was given out by Mr. Peabody himself. If it was given out by any member of the committee, that member must bear the responsibility."

Besides the startling disclosure of a political nature, it is believed the case will involve, it was rumored, that a former agent of the Watch and Ward Society had supplied the District Attorney's office with evidence of an association of attorneys hearing on that organization.

Dallas, First "Open Shop" City in U. S., Wars on Unions

Trinidad, Tex., Nov. 19.—Dallas has the distinction of being the first "open shop" city in the country. Business men and industrial chiefs have agreed to no longer treat with organized labor.

"Fostered and unresolvable demands of labor unions menace the city's welfare," the association said. "We will no longer deal with organizations that flagrantly break their contracts."

According to the decision, union men will have to work with non-union men if they work at all in Dallas. It was said, however, that the decision was not expected, but industrial concerns were prepared to meet them.

PEOPLE AGAINST BIG U. S. ARMY, SAYS CAPPER

Washington, Nov. 19.—The American people are opposed to compulsory military training and supporting a large standing army in time of peace, says William H. Capper, Republican, of Kansas, member of the Senate Military Committee, disclosed today.

Warm praise for the views of General John Pershing, and support to the views of General March, chief of staff, and Secretary Baker, was expressed by Capper.

"I do not feel that the people want to be bound by a system of compulsory military training in time of peace," Senator Capper declared. "I do know they do not look with favor on a large standing army."

"I am not receiving reports from substantial people against compulsory military training, and the sending of more troops to foreign lands. There should be more of these protests. The people should be allowed their right to be heard," he said.

Lays Woes of World Teachers 'Too Late' in Pay Demand

By International News Service.
Paris, Nov. 19.—Practically all of the great evils now confronting the civilized nations of the globe may be laid at the door of the feminine craze for indulgent and extravagant dress, according to Dr. Fournier de Combelles, one of the best known physicians in Europe, and a leader in the suffrage movement for more than thirty years.

Three startling conclusions are set forth in an article by Dr. Fournier de Combelles dealing with the effects of immediate and expensive dress upon the shortage of the body group and just published in Le Releve of the 18th of November. The article is signed "Dr. Fournier de Combelles."

First—She forces her husband to make himself slender by artificial means.

Second—She causes women to expose their bodies to all kinds of weather.

Third—She causes women to spend money on dress that many men are unable to spend on necessities.

Fourth—She is the direct cause of much immorality and crime in civilized nations.

"The craze for dress is a powerful, indirect cause of drunkenness and crime in the cities," he says. "It is the cause of much of the poverty and suffering in the world."

RENEW FIGHT FOR FALL RIVER BUS SERVICE

Fall River, Nov. 19.—The old controversy continues to wax warm over the issue. It is proposed to grant the American Blue Line Bus Company the exclusive right to operate the Fall River and Providence. Mayor Kay has issued an order permitting the company to operate the bus service.

The company is attempting to influence the Board of Aldermen in the consideration of the Mayor's veto. James H. Gildard, manager and owner of the bus company, says that the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company has done nothing to start the case again on the line to Providence and that the bus line is the only means of transportation available.

Even the hardest play can't wear them out as much as the washboard does

SLIDING for base-shiny marbles—duck on a rock—how that boy grinds the dirt right into his clothes!

Little sister makes mud pies—and even the baby's clothes get dirty and dirt ground into them in spite of all your watching.

By the time Monday comes around there's a great heap of grimy little garments—garments that need hours of rubbing and scrubbing and boiling before they would "come clean."

That weekly rubbing on the washboard wore out the fabric faster than the hardest of play could have done.

Make them last twice as long. You need no longer waste your strength and wear out the children's clothes on the ruinous washboard.

You just soak your clothes clean with Rinso, the new form of soap in granules. You do away with all the old boiling and hard rubbing. Just soak the dirty little play garments overnight in the bubbling, cleansing Rinso suds, or for three hours in the morning.

Then you "rinse" them! And they are clean! Rinso has done all the work, it has loosened all the dirt. Only the most soiled spots, cuffs, knees of little trousers, will need a little rubbing between your hands.

All that work is saved—and the clothes are saved, too. For the Rinso granules are so rich in cleansing value that they loosen all the dirt while the clothes soak; yet they are so pure they cannot do the slightest injury.

Even in cold water Rinso cleans in the same wonderful way.

Order Rinso from your grocer today and follow the easy directions on the package. One package does a whole week's laundry. Levee Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass. (Makers of Lux.)

U. S. SHERIFF'S AID SHOT DEAD BY MEXICAN

By International News Service.
Washington, Nov. 18.—The Mexican situation today again has considerable interest here while the State Department was awaiting complete reports on two affairs which have been strongly involved since the United States.

The shooting of Eugene Lack, an attaché of the sheriff's office of Imperial County, California, by a Mexican in Mexico has caused the department to move its hands for an investigation and punishment of the guilty person.

Reports on the case of William O. Jenkins, American consular agent, who was arrested and charged with conspiracy for having plotted his own abduction by Mexican bandits to discredit the government, were slow in coming.

The matter of punishment of the two Mexican bandits, who are alleged to have murdered the two American sailors, Connolly and Waterhouse, is still hanging fire. The cabinet has discussed the Mexican question, and there are indications that the administration is again planning to effect the Mexican policy.

TECH IS FACING BIG FINANCIAL CRISIS

Every Undergraduate Sets Institute Back $500 Annually, Says President MacLaurin

Each undergraduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology represents an annual loss of over $500, according to a statement today by President MacLaurin in connection with the Educational Endowment Fund campaign now under way.

He said that the loss is due to the difference between the amount it is required to charge for tuition and the actual cost of instruction.

As a result, President MacLaurin said, the institution actually faces a crisis because of its apparent prosperity. Funds must be raised to make up this difference between income and operating expense by immediate action on the part of the alumni and public.

The statement pointed out that Technology is essentially a New England institution, and over 25 per cent of her alumni are in and around Greater Boston, a large percentage of the industries which have benefited most by the service of the men trained at Technology. President MacLaurin continued.

New England. Despite that fact, he declared that New England has not and is not today doing its share toward maintaining the institution.

In the present campaign, he said, out of a total of $4,000,000, one man, the "Mystic Mr. Smith," who is neither a Tech alumnus nor a New Englander, is giving $1,000,000 on the condition that Technology raise $1,000,000 through other sources by January 1, 1920, and at that time has the remaining million in sight.

Trawler Named for American Fish Expert Ready

The new steel fishing boat named after the late American fish expert, Mr. H. B. Crowinshield, and owned by the Commonwealth Fisheries Company, arrived at the Boston Fish Pier today. This vessel, named after Mr. A. B. Mills, the fish expert of the Boston American during its fish campaign to reduce the high cost of living last year, was built by H. B. Crowinshield, Mr. A. B. Mills, and was constructed for the fishery, but owing to a fire in the yard where it was being built, a delay occurred of more than a year. The A. B. Mills is one of the largest steel trawlers in the world, carrying more than 400,000 pounds of fish.

The A. B. Mills is considered a valuable asset to the fleet of the Commonwealth Fisheries Company, which will be put to work in the fishery of Boston. To get fresh fish, direct to the consumer, without the intermediary of the middleman, the company has the A. B. Mills, the new fish trawler, which will make this possible, on a large degree.

SCHWAB CHEERFUL GOES AHEAD WITH ALL PLANS

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Returning from a three weeks' vacation in California, Charles M. Schwab, steel magnate and chairman of the Shipping Board, spent an hour here today. As to Bolshevism, socialism and kindred schemes, the steel magnate voiced the opinion that no such doctrines would take root here, but admitted that the threat that they carry to the government and American life seems apparent.

CRISTY, MOTO WON SUCCESS FOR CRISTY, WORCESTER EDITOR

I will be as harsh as truth, and as uncompromising as justice.

That unflinching motto, invented by the abolitionist Garrison, was the guiding star in the amazing career of Austin P. Cristy, owner of the Worcester Telegram, who this week was elected to the post of editor of the paper.

Not even in recent newspaper history has attracted more attention than the change in ownership of the Telegram. The paper is now the property of a publishing company, "The Boston Telegram and Worcester Telegram," which is headed by Theodore T. Ellis, of the New England Newspaper Supply Company of Worcester, a former employee in the mechanical department of the paper. No change in policy is looked for.

Mr. Cristy, who has been in the newspaper business for thirty-five years, has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years.

These thirty-five years have been years of not only of toil, but of stress and strain. Mr. Cristy has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years.

There are many things to know about A. P. Cristy. No newspaperman ever worked longer enough for his money than he. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years.

He fought more battles with his paper than probably any editor in Massachusetts. He made more enemies. He made more friends. He extended to more details.

He tried and "fired" more reporters. He crushed all attempts to start an opposition morning newspaper. And he sent broadcast through the country a greater number of able craftsmen trained in his hand school than any two newspapers in the country put together.

Comparatively few people, even in Worcester, know him by sight. Most of his waking hours have been spent in his office. It was only in the early days of his career that he was ever seen in the street. He was a man of few words, and his speech was always to the point.

Mr. Cristy has been in Worcester for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years. He has been in the Worcester Telegram for the last five years.

Here Are Opportunities to Save on Thanksgiving Needs

We are unusually well equipped this season to cater to the housewife who has the preparation of a holiday dinner on her hands. We carry china in a wide range of assortments and prices. Then, too, our line of cutlery, baking utensils and other kitchen equipment is one of the largest in New England. Our prices, as always, are very moderate.

Free Yourself of Rupture Without Pain, Operation or Loss of Time

FOR the benefit of our readers we take pleasure in publishing the Brooks offer to save all who are ruptured from wearing painful makeshift trusses that do not cure.

The Brooks Appliance Co. gladly send their remarkable patented Appliance ON TRIAL to prove that it holds the rupture back, keeps it in place, prevents it coming down or slipping out and finally assists Nature to heal up the rupture.

No man or woman ever can look and feel his or her best while suffering the torment, pain and discomfort of rupture.

Every day that you suffer from rupture—every hour of truss torture that you endure—after you read this page is your own fault.

For many years we have been telling you that no makeshift truss will ever help you. We have told you about the harm ill-fitting trusses are doing. We have told you that the only truly comfortable, sanitary and scientific device for holding rupture is the Brooks Rupture Appliance.

Now we offer to prove it to you, entirely at our risk. We will send you a Brooks Rupture Appliance on trial. If you really want to be rid of your rupture fill out the coupon below and mail it today.

Instead of wearing a steel spring or inflexible harness, try the velvet-soft Brooks Appliance.

Instead of the old hard or stuffed pad, use the soft rubber automatic air-cushion of a Brooks Appliance.

The Brooks Appliance clings to you without force and you are hardly conscious of its presence. But above all else, it HOLDS always.

Within an hour after you receive the Brooks Appliance, if you take advantage of this remarkable trial offer, you will throw away your truss forever.

Over 685,000 People Have Accepted This Offer. Why Not You?

Doesn't that prove that the Brooks Appliance is not an experiment but a positive success—that it does all we claim for it? Among these 685,000 men, women and children there must be hundreds whose condition was identical with yours. Can you afford not to investigate and satisfy yourself when it costs you nothing to prove what the Brooks Appliance will do for you?

This wonderful device is a triumph of scientific and mechanical genius, the outcome of more than 30 years' experience,

Mr. C. E. Brooks, inventor of the Appliance. Mr. Brooks healed himself of rupture over 20 years ago and patented the Appliance from his personal experience. If ruptured, write TODAY to the Brooks Appliance Company, Marshall, Michigan.

and the results accomplished by its use are little short of miraculous.

Many hundreds of physicians and surgeons recommend the Brooks Appliance and condemn makeshift trusses as more harmful and dangerous than any other method of retaining and treating rupture. Thousands of people have written us testifying to the amazing results they have secured from this great invention. Many of these people live right in your vicinity and we will be glad to send you copies of their thankful letters if you will ask for them when you write.

Men, Women and Children Find the Brooks Appliance Equally Effective

No matter if your rupture is old and severe or only recently developed, no matter if you are young or old, you should not fail to profit by this No-Risk Trial Offer.

No other rupture support, truss, lock, device, pad or plaster is offered to the public under so broad a guarantee of satisfaction.

If for any reason whatever you do not wish to keep the Brooks Appliance after you try it, send it back. You don't have to give any reason. You are to be the sole judge. There will be no argument, no dispute or misunderstanding.

Ten Reasons Why You Should Accept This Offer

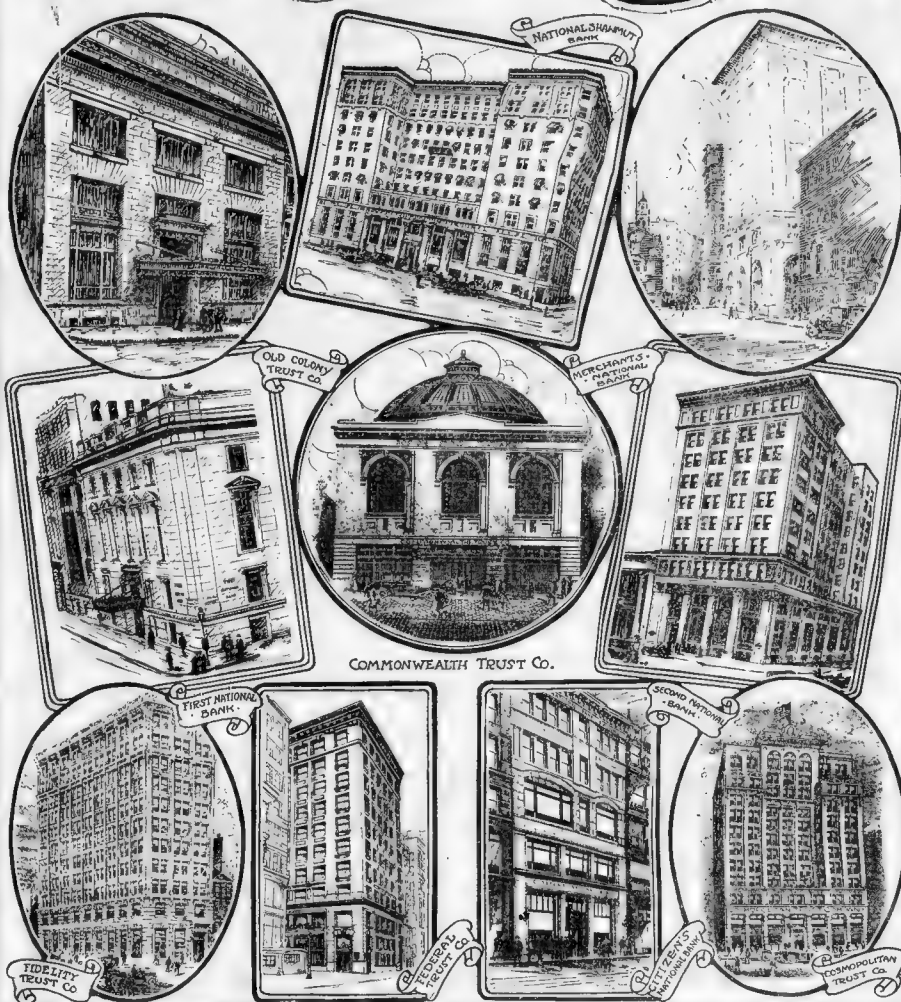

1. It is absolutely the only Appliance embodying the principle that inventors have sought after for years.
2. The Appliance for retaining the rupture cannot be thrown out of position.
3. Being an air cushion of soft rubber it clings closely to the body, yet never blisters or causes irritation.
4. Unlike ordinary so-called pads, it is not cumbersome or ungainly.
5. It is small, soft and pliable, and positively cannot be detected through the clothing.
6. The soft, pliable bands do not give the unpleasant sensation of wearing a harness.
7. Nothing to get foul; it can be washed without any injury.
8. There are no metal springs in the Appliance to torture one by cutting and bruising the flesh.
9. All materials are the very best that money can buy, making it a durable and safe Appliance to wear.
10. Our reputation is so thoroughly established and our prices so reasonable, our terms so fair that you should not hesitate to send the free coupon today.

City State

America's Wealthiest City is Boston

Mr. Newcomer, investigating Boston's advantages, learns some very interesting facts about the city's financial strength.

My Dear Partner:

What I've just discovered about Boston's financial position was certainly an eye-opener to me, and no doubt it'll be a big surprise to you, too.

Did you know, Randall, that BOSTON IS THE RICHEST CITY PER CAPITA IN THE UNITED STATES? I didn't. Supposed New York held that honor, of course.

Boston has fourteen national banks and thirty-one trust companies with a combined capital of $50,208,100, surplus and undivided profits of $75,917,114, and deposits of $760,550,002. And the city's bank clearings for the first six months of this year totalled the immense sum of $8,068,452,601! Her total assessed valuation is $1,499,843,198.

This vast wealth isn't concentrated in the hands of a few to the extent that it is in other cities, either. It is fairly well distributed. Boston's twenty-four savings banks, with their combined deposits of over $321,000,000, testify to the prosperity and thrift of the people here.

Eminent financial experts estimate that Boston with its suburbs has buying and consuming power equal to that normally possessed by a community of over 2,000,000 souls, although its population is much below this figure.

Boston is the Federal Reserve banking centre for all New England. And I find her bankers cordial, interested and accommodating, glad to go the limit consistent with sound banking principles to help both newcomer and native Bostonian develop their business here to the maximum.

You can't get better banking facilities ANYWHERE than right here in Boston.

Your partner,

J. A. Newcomer

THE SQUAD HOWS ITS FINAL PRACTICE IN BOWL

New Haven, Nov. 19.—For the last time this season, the Yale football squad today visited the Bowl, the scene of its daily practice and its week-end vicissitudes. After detours by Boston College and Princeton, the Ell Knights of the gridiron felt that they have a lot to learn and nothing in the world to lose in the Harvard Stadium. They regard the match with their rivals in the nature of a hunting adventure, and they believe that they can play football good enough to bring home the bacon.

Head Coach Sharps planned a short scrimmage of the brick and mortar variety far late today. Jim Braden was the only regular player who seems still a trifle drawn, as a result of his experiences with the Princeton parties of last Saturday. There was some doubt as to whether Braden would be sent into the scrimmage, but he was ordered to appear. Although Braden was regarded as only a second string player, two weeks ago, he was the ace in the Yale deck against Princeton, doing all the Yale scoring through his hand kicking and being personally responsible for the ground gaining which resulted in five of the seven. First down which his team registered against the Tigers.

Yale has never before gained as little ground against Princeton as last Saturday, but the Yale players are giving odds that the team will make more than seven downs against the crimson.

The staff went for the coaches that the new players will be taught during the week between the Princeton and Harvard games, but that special attention is being given to several of the most effective variations of the Yale game, in a policy which will insure 12 clean touchdowns.

Yale has never before gained as little ground against Princeton as last Saturday, but the Yale players are giving odds that the team will make more than seven downs against the crimson.

But the Princeton disaster disheartened a shadow of the attack and repatriated the staff from the field, the poor from the offensive drive. The Yale game against Harvard will be campaigned on altogether different lines from that which succeeded against Princeton.

PRINCETON'S CHIEF TEAM. Two hundreds of today's practice were plentiful in the extreme. The Princeton squad was led to the field and cheered all out as they took the field. The program for the Princeton squad was to play the Yale team in the afternoon. The chief was the Princeton captain, who called the team to the field and around the field in the afternoon. The chief was the Princeton captain, who called the team to the field and around the field in the afternoon.

WELL-KNOWN BOXERS AT SOMERVILLE SMOKER. There will be a Rock of nobility at the City Association of Men's boxing smoker at Somerville, Tuesday night. Ruben Morris has volunteered to give the service of the night. He is a well-known boxer, while Paul Doyle, Harry Hergin and several other men are on hand to answer the same. Johnny Money, the Newton boxer, will also appear.

SAUGUS AND WATERTOWN PLAY 7-7 TO 7-TIE GAME. Saugus High and Watertown High played a 7-7 tie in the basketball game at Saugus. On the first play, the game was tied at 1-1. The game was tied at 1-1. The game was tied at 1-1.

THE Columbia team seems to have learned football so that they will have something to forget.

BENNY LEONARD may be able to show the West something in fighting, but Geronimo and Wild Bill Hickok are tough acts to follow.

FRIEDMAN WINS FROM MCCOY IN SLOW BOUT

By JACK CONWAY.

Jimmy Wilde will not have to spend sleepless nights worrying about losing any of his diverse titles to either Abe Friedman or Benny McCoy, who tries to convince all that Baltimore is the greatest city in the land of the brave.

Wilde, although weighing only 132 pounds, would be able to easily dispose of Friedman or McCoy. He looks as though both of these youths will have to come to terms with the American lightweight.

Friedman won the decision over McCoy in a twelve-round bout at the Armory A. A. show at the Grand Opera House. The issue was slow and failed to make a hit with the fans.

What little fighting there was must be credited to Friedman. Beginning with the fourth round, the lead from Big Broadway handed some effective punches. McCoy, however, was unable to do much scoring.

The best contest of the evening was the affair between Tunney Elms and Charles Bergin of New Haven. Elms, a former champion, was defeated by Bergin in a ten-round bout.

Elms and Bergin proved they are sweet punchers and fast, swift, boxer. Bergin had a slight margin in his favor at the end of the eighth round. Elms then came to the front and with a rapid clip and evaded the "Lute".

Victor Al Nelson of Manchester, N. H., won over Joe Parson of East Boston in a ten-round bout. Nelson was in better condition than the local boy and made it to show it.

Advancing Al Nelson of Manchester, N. H., won over Joe Parson of East Boston in a ten-round bout. Nelson was in better condition than the local boy and made it to show it.

The Allied T. & A. A. A. will hold an amateur boxing show at Casino Hill, Long on Monday night. There will be contests at 108, 115, 125 and 135 pounds. The show is on Saturday with M. P. Watson, No. 314 Eglar Avenue, L. N.

PAT RAGAN PLANS TO PURCHASE OMAHA BASEBALL CLUB

OMAHA, NEB., Nov. 18.—Pat Ragan is planning to purchase the Omaha baseball club. He is one of the heaviest hitters in the American league. He is now on his farm near Richmond, Ill. but will be in Omaha the latter part of this week to take up the proposition of the club. About $250,000 is required to swing the deal.

BROWN PLAYERS HAVE FAST PRACTICE SESSION. Brown players were given a fast workout at the Armory A. A. show at the Grand Opera House. The issue was slow and failed to make a hit with the fans.

 A BRAZILIAN fish called the malha cannot swim. It can only crawl or walk or hop. It has a long, upturned snout and resembles a toad. TELL me!
 Why is it that, no matter how generous, no matter how rich, no matter how poor, there is no man who is not a miser? No matter how old, or young, or kind, or unkind, or intelligent a man may be. There are TWO things which always ruin his fighting spirit—Two things to which he chronically, eternally and conscientiously OBJECTS—The Laundry Bills! And the price of his wife's hair!

How to Make a Gray Hair Remedy
 Mrs. Makie, the well-known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "I have never used a hair cream, but I have used a box of Orifex powder at any time when I have a headache. It costs very little and it does not harm the hair. It is a box of Orifex powder at any time when I have a headache. It costs very little and it does not harm the hair.  You can, just as soon as you get rid of that stomach and liver trouble and not before. Sleeplessness frequently due to disorder in the organs of digestion, and consequently, to avoid it you must put these organs right. The use of narcotics is not only dangerous but leaves the cause of the trouble untouched and should therefore be avoided. Give to Boston American's Christmas Fund Promptly

A recent official inquiry into the condition of the poor in New York city revealed the fact that almost a quarter of a million children in our greatest and richest American city were not receiving food enough properly to nourish their little bodies.

What an official investigation in Boston would reveal we do not know exactly, but we do know that it would disclose conditions surprising and painful. With wages high we know that the cost of living is higher, we know that there has been a great deal of readjustment since the war and that this has produced unemployment in thousands of unexpected places.

How the high cost of living and the sporadic unemployment compares with high wages and sporadic shortage of labor we do not know accurately, but we do know that there is want in Boston and in every large centre of population. This want is usually most keenly felt around Christmas. There ought not to be a single child in America not made happy by a hearty Christmas dinner. A good Christmas dinner is the least of the social obligations which our Christian community owes to the little children who "are of the Kingdom of Heaven."

For years the American has undertaken to collect funds for Christmas baskets to be distributed among the people of Boston where they will be the most acceptable. Never yet have the people failed to respond to this call upon their good will. General conditions this year indicate that the appeal will meet its usual generous response. Those who fail to subscribe usually do not fail with deliberate intention, but from procrastinating until it is too late. If you intend to give, have your struggle out with yourself concerning the amount of your gift now, and make the gift promptly so that only the agreeable feature of it will dwell with you.

Power of Congress to Make Peace Is Indisputable

Representative Mason has before the House Committee on Foreign Relations, of which he is a member, the text of a congressional resolution declaring the United States "at peace with the world."

As the American has several times pointed out—and argued at length—the power of the Congress to declare the existence of a state of war legally implies the equal power of the Congress to declare that state of war no longer existent.

No constitutional lawyer of any real attainments would hold otherwise—unless retained to do so.

The fact that a number of lawyers, in and out of the Congress, hold that Congress has no power to make peace does not alter the truth of our statement.

The doctrine of presidential superiority to and independence of the Congress in dealing with foreign affairs has been effectively knocked in the head by the debates and votes of the past four months.

To our mind, the very worst feature of ratifying the unwisdom document Mr. Wilson brought back from Paris was the indorsement such a ratification would have given to the equally unwisdom doctrine that the President alone, and without consultation even with the Senate, could bind the nation to the most far-reaching and revolutionary policies and pledges of alliance, conquest, annexation, colonization and military, naval and financial obligations, and that opposition to the executive will in such case would be a species of lese-majeste, deserving of the gibbet.

Once we had acknowledged that extraordinary and presumptuous and autocratic theory we might as well have burned the Constitution, dismissed the Congress and humbly requested our President to govern us as long as he felt equal to the task, and then turn us over to a successor of his own choice.

It will be a long time, we think, before a President of the United States will again undertake to rule this republic by his own decrees and mandates, and in contempt of the Constitution, the Congress and the traditions and the sentiments of the American people.

In a speech supporting his concurrent resolution, Representative Mason said:

Mr. Hearst has supplied and acquainted the nation with the ethical and moral reasons why we should be at peace. France and England, now trading with Germany and the Bolshevik Government of Russia, while we remain at war, supply the business reasons.

Which is good sense and sound statesmanship and right policy, condensed into one short sentence.

The country has need of such Senators and Representatives as those who have killed the preposterous League of Nations at one blow.

More power to their elbows!

Teachers Prove They Should Have Pay Increase

It seems to the American that the Boston public school teachers have made out a good case for their request for an increase of pay. The teachers have presented some statistics which have not been refuted and which tend to show that the class of teachers which will receive the greatest percentage of increase will receive only a 49 per cent. increase, while the cost of living during the last period increased 72.78 per cent.

Since the proposed 49 per cent. increase of salary is the largest percentage and since that is scarcely more than half the increase in the cost of living during the period compared, it is difficult to see what legitimate argument can be made against a general increase of teachers' wages running from 49 per cent. down to 7 per cent.

Hamlin and the Cabinet

New England ought to have a representative in the Cabinet. This is the first administration in many, many years in which New England has not had a representative in the great executive branch of the government.

Rumor persists in indicating that Mr. Charles S. Hamlin may succeed Carter Glass for Secretary of the Treasury. If rumor in this case is something more than an idle old gossip, this section of the country will be well pleased both because it is Mr. Hamlin and because it is a New England man. Mr. Hamlin is too well known to need expatiation upon his capacity to fill the office.

More Truth Than Poetry

SICK AND INCURABLE

By S. E. KISER

DISAPPOINTED people grumble here and there. Believing that the world is going wrong; They are wedded to despair, and the faces that they wear Are unlovely and lugubrious and long. They grumble at the wind and at the rain, They see no good in anything at all; In a dismal, solemn strain they continue to complain; Where there's honey, they insist on finding gall.

THEY are saddened by the pleasures others find, They doubt the good, but still believe the bad; They are never much inclined to assist in being kind To the helpless who have cause for being sad; If Mrs. Brown is pretty and well dressed They shake their heads and pity "poor old Brown"; Leaving little to be guessed, they refuse to pause for rest Till they've got the scandal spread all over town.

BECAUSE they miss rewards they fail to earn They think themselves ill used and out of luck; Always filled with sad concern, they possess no wish to turn From the ruts that ooze with mirth-destroying muck! They hunt for cheerless things in every crack And open closets, letting trouble out; Hating virtues that they lack, they keep dragging others back, Thrusting hope away and clinging hard to doubt.

POOR victims of a very old mistake, They hunt for satisfaction in the gloom, Never knowing that they nurse every ache a deeper ache By looking as if going to their doom; They have failed to learn that grumbling's a disease, That cheer's a habit yielding dividends; Deaf to mirthful harmonies, blind to all things formed to please, They wonder why they haven't any friends.

HERE COMES THE BRIDE

If a girl can have a fine wedding she isn't likely to worry much about the kind of a man she is getting.

LOAFING IS A LONESOME JOB

When a man has nothing to do he can't understand why other people will not drop their work and help to keep him from becoming lonesome.

AND THE likes of you.
AND THE likes of you.
WHO PUT it on paper.
AND HAND it in.
AND IT'S put in type.
AND PASSED along.
AND A great press roar.
AND THE sheets come out.
AND THE people read.
AND THAT a prince has come.
AND THAT'S what I had.
IN THE back of my head.
WHEN I wrote your names.
AND AT THE top of the sheet.
AND HANDED them in.
TO BE put in type.
AND SO I suggest.
THAT AWAY back here.
ON THE very last page.
WHERE WE CAN'T bear the noise.
OF THE big black type.
AND WHERE it's quiet.
MOST of the time.
THAT WE all shake hands.
AND ID like to do more.
BUT SINCE Edward was here.
BACK IN '90 some time.
THE TOWN'S gone dry.
AND SO we all know.
THERE'S NOTHING doing.
NO WHERE.

TO GREET the prince.
AND WOMEN should fight.
AND WEAR their clothes.
TO GET through the crowd.
WHEN THE prince goes by.
THAT THIS couldn't be true.

AND EXCEPT FOR us.

ECONOMIZES ALONG HIS SPECIAL LINES

By Mrs. Wilson Woodrow

ALMOST every one has a pet economy. A person may spend lavishly in either direction, but in respect of one particular thing, he grows over every penny he has to put out.

It is a sad day for the feminine heart when a man's pet economy is his wife's clothes and the home they dwell in; and this is the burden of a plaint a woman has written me.

She begins by saying that she has been deprived of any spending money for so long, even for the necessities of life with the exception of food, that she has almost come to look at it as her god.

"I have no allowance," she says, "and can't get my husband to give me one. As far as the table is concerned, I can order what I want and as much as I want, and he pays for it willingly and without any fault-finding."

Right here is where the sympathy that many housekeepers of today might otherwise feel for her is going to die. To have the privilege in this day of soaring prices to order any amount of food and have the bills paid without a grumble will seem almost paradoxical.

"What more can she ask?" they will draw. "Any woman who has withdrawn such a prize in the lottery of marriage has nothing to complain of."

But, alas, the poor lady has. She goes on:

"He can't see that I need anything but food. He will never give me more than a dollar and fifty cents at a time to clothe myself and the children and keep up the house; and the question is always asked, 'What did you do with it?'"

"It is given so unwillingly, too, that I go without things until I am a disgrace and other people talk about me and consider me a poor manager and housekeeper. You know how many things children need and household belongings are bound to wear out. Sometimes I feel as if I were losing my mind trying to make both ends meet. The accumulation of it all is dreadful."

"DISCOURAGED."

I wonder what that man would do if he were offered a partnership in a prosperous business, accepted it, and then found that his partner had no idea of dividing the profits, but merely added to the new member of the firm: "Here is plenty of money for stock and materials, but none for the wages of the employees. Nevertheless, I expect results."

Likened to Partnership

The cases are similar. And yet it is presumable that this man wishes to have a pleasant, comfortable home, with bright, happy faces about him. So he attempts to realize this dream by forcing himself to accept such ridiculous conditions, and no doubt expects her to be cheerful and contented under the circumstances.

If he lists a person's hands behind his back and then telling him to go ahead and hew wood and carry water.

When a woman marries, the understanding is that she is to take charge of the home and disburse the money which she and her husband set aside for household and personal expenses, while the man devotes all his energies to the task of earning the family living.

Unless she proves herself a waster, a sloven or a fool, the husband should no more interfere in the management than she should interfere in his business.

Now, the man in this particular case must be in extremely comfortable circumstances, or he would not pay the bills for the table so placidly and sweetly. But there is something the matter with his eyesight. He can see that the family must have food, but he is blind to the fact that they also need decent clothing.

Another dream yesterday in the value of foreign money. Financiers of Austria and other peasants that had saved up a little money during a life's work realize that they have been through a war. Five years ago, before the Hapsburg peninsula decided that he must partition Serbia, the Austrian crown was worth twenty and one-third cents. Yesterday it was worth three-quarters of one cent. It is as though your dollar should be worth only four cents tomorrow.

That has happened to Austria. Germany and the Balkan countries it is almost as bad and in France, Italy, even England, the value of money keeps dropping by leaps and bounds.

Look out for European bankruptcy, an unemployment, and those that gamble in international and other securities, but don't that should be thought over carefully by men responsible for this country's stability.

According to Mr. Hines, a hard worker, railroad employee of the United States average $14 a month pay. There is no prospect and no surprise the inhabitants of Europe.

The Prince of Wales, interesting young English gentleman with ears high up on the side of his head, was officially received in New York yesterday with his handsome son, Lord George, and his wife, Mrs. Brown, and his young lady, Lady Mary.

On that occasion the Prince wore ordinary civilian clothes. Perhaps Earl Grey and Chamberlain him and his studied natural history, told him that a British uniform in General Washington's tomb could have been such a shock for the ghost that was "first in war, first in peace," etc.

He looked a different Prince from the one photographed as the young man was putting a wreath on the tomb of George Washington.

On that occasion the Prince wore ordinary civilian clothes. Perhaps Earl Grey and Chamberlain him and his studied natural history, told him that a British uniform in General Washington's tomb could have been such a shock for the ghost that was "first in war, first in peace," etc.

JUDGE FINDS CURE FOR AUTO SPEEDERS

Automobile speeders are becoming an increasingly grave menace to the American public, but Judge Steig has found a method which he believes will cure in the worst and most chronic cases of the Chicago morose and face the victim of reckless drivers while the keeper of the morose. In sequential tones, reproaches them for their carelessness and selfishness. How it works out is told in an interesting chapter in the magazine section of next Sunday's
